SPLENDID GIFT BY BARONESS SALOMON DE ROTHSCHILD TO THE FRENCH NATION

The splendid gift left to the French nation by the late Baroness Salomon de Rothschild of her beautiful mansion and art gallery and fine gardens in the Rue Berryer, in addition to an annual subsidy of 100,000 francs for its upkeep.

CORPORAL FRANK ABRAMSON

The U.S. Marines, during the late war, were known to the Germans as "Devil Dogs," and Corporal Frank Abramson, who was one of their number, was a terror to the German enemy. His bravery in the field earned him more decorations than any fighting man from the Empire State.

MRS. FELS ON WAY TO PALESTINE

Mrs. Joseph Fels, widow of the well known philanthropist and single tax advocate, is again en route to Palestine, where she will remain for the next two months. Mrs. Fels is carrying out her late husband's ideals and is an ardent Zionist. She will make an annual trip to Palestine.

NOW THAT RABBI JOSEPH KORNFIELD is United States Minister to Persia and has safely arrived at his post at Teheran, we take the liberty of asking him for that one hundred Turkish cigarettes he promised us. Rabbi Kornfeld plays a mean hand of pinochle, and we have a sneaking suspicion that some of his and President Harding's mutual Columbus, Ohio, friends used their influence with the Chief Executive to remove the former from the Marion-Columbus "melding" pot.

PERSONALITIES

BY JOSEPH KAYE

(New York Special to The Canadian Jewish Review)

We have for some time past abandoned the Trail, which has furnished us with so much material and recreation. Of late, however, we were brought back to our pastime when we learned that Prof. Steinmetz, the brains of the General Electric Company and one of the greatest electrical authorities in the world, was of our kin.

Of course, after knowing that General Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army, was a half Jew, nothing should astonish you or us in this regard, but the thought of Steinmetz being a Jew seems somewhat out of the ordinary. In the first place, few men look less like our brethren than Steinmetz; secondly, his personality is wrapped in a good deal of austere vagueness, and while most famous people appear to instinctively court—consciously or not—the Judaic mantle, Steinmetz has been aloof.

We cannot tell you much about Steinmetz except that he is a remarkable genius and at first sight intrigues your interest, but mention of him has stirred us to the reflection that you ought to have some sort of guide by the aid of which you will be able to recount the achievements of your race on necessary occasions. It is quite embarrassing to be placed in the position where, after vaingloriously informing your neighbor of how many of the world's elect belong to you, you should be automatically stumped by the request of a doubtful Thomas to name them. To ward off such predicaments for you, we propose herewith to give you a brief catalog of the persons who have borne on their shoulders, let us say, nine-tenths of the responsibility of our civilized state. When you have read the list and committed it properly to memory, you may write us a letter denouncing us for plagiarism and asking indignantly the source of our information.

To take Steinmetz for a lead, and start with inventors, we have Liebhafenthal, who built the first airplane and so robbed the Wright brothers of their laurels. Next comes Emile Berliner, who invented the disc records for phonographs, and thereby opened a new field of perfection for Edison's device. He also invented the microphone for Bell's telephone, a device which is now in universal use. At the present time Berliner is working on the helicopter, a flying machine that has occupied the minds of flying men in the same way as perpetual motion caught the imagination of engineers. The helicopter "takes off" straight up from its original position instead of coasting along the ground for several hundred yards as the airplane does. The obvious utility of the helicopter is that it dispenses with both landing and starting field. If the roof of your bungalow is flat, your Helicopter run-about could very well be parked there.

Of the older inventors, we have Skolimsky, who was the first inventor of the calculating machine and developed a system of sending quadruple telegrams which was later used by Kelvin as the basis for his multiple telegraphy. Abraham Stern was a versatile inventor of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. He invented surveying devices which were of paramount importance to engineers. Continuing his study of devices relating to the land, he next brought out harvesting and threshing machines and the sickle, which has been used as a standard farming implement in Europe and elsewhere.

An ophthalmologist, Richard Liebreich, invented the optometrical eye mirror, which has formed the basis for a long list of surgical devices.

From this poverty-stricken inventors' list it will, nevertheless, be seen that we have credit for the airplane, essential parts of the telephone and phonograph, the calculating machine, the multiple system of telegraphy, the surgical eye mirror, the sickle, and probably the helicopter — quite an achievement to flatter our vanity a little.

Taking the medical profession and beginning with the ancient ages, it is found that we were the chief guardians of the healths of kings, nobles and popes. Among these historic medical gentlemen may be mentioned Maimonides, physician to Saladin and most celebrated doctor of his time as well as the most celebrated Hebrew philosopher and leader; Elias Montalto, physician to Maria de' Medici, and Rodrigo Lopez, court physician to Queen Elizabeth of England. As a matter of fact, our ancestors were at a premium as healers. In modern days our great physicians are actually too numerous to mention. To select a few, we have Ludwig Traube, one of the greatest physicians and teachers in Europe and one whose written works on various medical problems were epoch-making; Leibreich discovered chloral hydrate as an anaesthetic, and Semmelweis discovered the cause of puerperal infection. Of the most beloved doctors in America, was the late Jacoby.

As lawyers, of course, it is superfluous to name any list. At least we cannot name one conveniently. If you should be asked, who ARE the great Jewish legal lights, you can simply counter-query, who are the great legal lights who are NOT Jews? That is an answer that will conform sufficiently to fact and entirely to your spirit. However, you could individualize Judah P. Benjamin, our historic pride in America, who was accorded every honor in the power of the bar and who refused a judgeship on the Supreme Court and stated the great Daniel Webster out of court in twenty minutes of argument, Luigi Luzzatti and Louis D. Brandeis. These names are, of course, chosen at random.

Mr. Rutenberg Interviewed—M. P. Challenged—Sir Herbert Samuel In Palestine—Morning Post Pulled Up—Music and Art.

August 4, 1922.

Mr. Pinhas Rutenberg was induced on Monday last to grant an interview to certain press representatives of some of the principal London and provincial journals. In the course of the interview, Mr. Rutenberg was apologetic about his use of the English language, but his abilities in that respect, as was shown at the interview, he very much underrates. He was particularly anxious, apparently, to impress his hearers with the fact that political matters in Palestine hold no interest for him. He is purely and simply a civil engineer, and it was only on the economic and commercial aspects of the scheme that Mr. Rutenberg spoke. He said: "I am a simple unknown Jew and an engineer." He could not understand the publicity given to his scheme and why he was called "The Mysterious Mr. Rutenberg." He dealt firstly with the concession, Jewish-Arab relations, orders for material already placed and under consideration, and the boundaries of Palestine. He stated that he has obtained from the Palestinian government assurances that loans would be granted in order that Arabs could take part in the Jaffa scheme. As to labor, there was no Arab labor in the summer time, when this work would have to be done, and a large percentage of the labor required must be skilled. In conclusion, he thought that the Moslem and Jew could work amicably together for the benefit of Palestine and he intended doing all he could to ensure this desirable result.

Mr. Rutenberg has challenged Sir J. Norton-Griffiths, M.P., according to a letter appearing in the "Times" which reads:

"Sir: Immediately on my arrival in this country I addressed the following letter to Lieut.-Col. Sir J. Norton-Griffiths, M.P.: 'London, July 12, 1922. Sir: The following statement made by you in the House of Commons on the 4th inst., as reported in 'Hansard,' has just now been brought to my notice: I purposely refrained from intervening in the debate solely because I myself and my firm had these very concessions offered twice, and it was hawked all over London and refused by house after house. I have the documents on my file. I would not give a bob for it now.' As I have not the privilege of knowing you personally, and as, to the best of my knowledge, my concessions have not been offered to any firm either here or abroad, I should be very much obliged to you if you would very kindly inform me on what grounds you based your remarks. I am, sir, yours faithfully, (sgd.) P. Rutenberg.' In spite of repeated inquiries, I have not received any reply, and I should, therefore, be obliged if you would give publicity to this letter. I am, sir, yours faithfully, Pinhas Rutenberg."

of Commons, it may not be out of place here to mention that many things appear to be said by honorable members in the heat of a moment which, had they reflected for even the briefest space, they would never have thought further of uttering. Other cases of a similar nature have been rather frequent of late and during the recent Honours debate remarks were made that had later to be apologized for.

The Palestine Advisory Council meeting at Jerusalem on July 17 was addressed by Sir Herbert Samuel, who, inter alia, said that he had returned to Palestine to find that the Mandate (which was on that day before the League of Nations) is giving rise to a remarkable series of false rumors among the people which, he pointed out, were totally absurd. One point was the safety of the various Holy Places, and particularly the Mosque Al Aqsa, which, he said, was far from being in danger owing to the Mandate, but was additionally protected. Another rumor concerned the replacing of the British flags over the governorates by Zionist flags on the passage of the Mandate, while at the same time the government would be transferred to the Zionist organization and 30,000 Jews would immediately enter the country to occupy it. He thought that there were many people who actually believed these events would take place. He assured them that the approval of the Mandate would make no difference whatever in the administration of the country or in relation to immigration laws. He continued to say that it was intended to issue a government loan to supply the financial requirements of the government in respect to railway development and rolling stock, telephonic and other post office requirements, the building of roads, assistance of agriculture, draining of swamps as a preventive of malaria, the erection of some government buildings and a variety of other purposes. This loan was not to be raised for repayment of the British government for the construction of railways, the provision of the Jerusalem water-supply and other works carried out during the war, the repayment of which must wait until the position of the country is considerably improved above its present standard. When the loan is issued, Palestinians will be given every opportunity to invest in it.

The "Morning Post" of some two or three days ago contained the following letter from M. D. Eder, of the Palestine Zionist Executive: "Sir: In 'Palestine Revisited, IV,' published in your issue of July 6, your special correspondent states that one private concern was compelled to dismiss all its Jewish clerks, typists, etc., because it was found that copies of files, transactions, etc., were being forwarded by them to the Zionist Commission, and that these people were receiving pay from the Zionist Commission. This statement is absolutely untrue. Neither the Zionist Commission nor its successor, the Palestine Zionist Executive,

AN OPPORTUNITY TO BE HEARD

A PRESS DISPATCH from the West states that Mr. Stewart, Cabinet Minister of Immigration, intends to lay before the Cabinet and Parliament when it convenes again, a change in Canada's immigration legislation.

The Orders in Council, which went into effect some months ago, were decidedly contrary to the pre-election immigration policies and promises advocated by the Liberal party. These have been in operation for several months. They have acted like a "keep out" sign on the portals of this land of opportunity. Thousands of desirable immigrants who normally would have come to Canada went to other parts of the Empire where they knew they were welcome. The Orders in Council, we are sure, do not represent the majority opinion of the Liberal members of Parliament. They were passed without consultation of the leaders of Parliament, and as a concession to the powerful and sinister lobbies, which have been operating in Ottawa since the King Government took office. We believe that the motives of these interests are unprogressive, and that to follow them would be ruinous to the country as a whole.

The Minister of Immigration expressed a willingness, if the press despatches are correct, to confer with different groups of citizens and to give them an opportunity of expressing their views on the immigration question. We, therefore, consider it most opportune for a representative committee of leading Jews, well known for their integrity and honesty, to present the views which we as Canadians as well as Jews, feel should be embodied in forthcoming immigration legislation. Our angle of vision on this problem is quite different from that of many of our fellow-citizens of other faiths. We are convinced that the arguments of unemployment, overcrowded cities, radicalism, low standard of living, etc., etc., which are presented by the believers in a "closed door" are easily refuted; and that a memorandum can be drawn up which will present our grounds for believing that what Canada needs most is a constructive liberal immigration policy.

In the whole discussion on the immigration question, a distinction must be drawn between immigrants of the white and immigrants of the yellow or brown races. The latter problem involves considerations, which are altogether foreign to the questions appertaining to the immigration of white people.

The Jewish citizens of Canada can no longer rely on political favors and must not depend on the use of "influence" to gain them a hearing. Nor with all due respect is the question of immigration legislation a matter in which the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society can be active. It is best for reasons that are obvious, for this organization not to meddle in any way with immigration legislation.

The whole matter must be presented by a non-partisan, but influential committee of Jewish citizens hailing from different parts of Canada, not merely from Montreal, whose duty as Canadian citizens it is to present a view neither popular nor prevalent to be sure, nevertheless sound both in theory and practice, for the Cabinet's consideration.

We have several times appealed for the formation of such a committee. We again tender our good offices as Chairman of the Immigration Committee of the Canadian Bnai Brith Lodges for the organization of such a Committee. We trust that those who see eye to eye with us in this regard will promptly communicate with us, and that the only opportunity now open will not be permitted to go to waste.

CHILUL HA-SHEM

"A RABBI charged with legalizing Jewish divorces." This headline flashed across the wires several days ago, and appeared in many Anglo-Jewish and Yiddish papers in Canada and across the line. The story is one long familiar to many of us and quite typical of a certain class of Orthodox Rabbis. It appears that Rabbi L——, of C——, Ohio, was "caught" and brought up before a Police Magistrate on the charge of granting a "ghet" (Jewish divorce), for a "consideration" of five hundred dollars, to parties prior to their obtaining a legal divorce by the courts of law instituted for this very purpose. The evidence proved conclusively that Rabbi L—— had developed a large and growing clientele, which extended into many cities.

There are unfortunately a growing number of these cases. Many couples, divorced in this way by unscrupulous Rabbis, who are primarily interested in their fees, which are usually large, re-marry. The result is that the re-marriages are bigamous. Offspring of such unions are regarded by the law as illegitimate, and the contracting parties liable to civil, and in some States, criminal prosecution. These cases always receive more than sufficient publicity, which is not particularly complimentary either to the Rabbi or the Jewish community. We are sorry to state that these cases are not infrequent in Canada or in our own city. It seems to be a practice not infrequently patronized by a certain element in Canada, who, realizing that it is a difficult and expensive matter to obtain a divorce in this country, find willing Orthodox Rabbis, who for a "consideration," will give the parties in question a "ghet."

These Rabbis know full well that it is illegal, both from the Jewish as well as the civil law, to grant divorces in this willy-nilly fashion. The Rabbinic law states quite plainly "Dino d'mal chutho dino" — "the law of the land shall be your law."

Since marriage and divorce are to-day matters not merely involving religious sanction, but the sanction of the State as well, it is, therefore, absolutely impossible for these Orthodox Rabbis to hide behind the cloak of Jewish law and defend their practice on the ground of Jewish religious custom. No reputable Rabbi will grant a "ghet" unless the parties have previously received their official divorce from a court of law. Then, if the parties desire a "ghet," and the Rabbi finds, after hearing the complaints, that same warrant the issuance of a "ghet," according to Jewish law, he will grant it.

Not alone are the questions of bigamy and illegitimacy involved, but it is chilul Ha-shem for those Orthodox Rabbis who are guilty of this practice, to so prostitute their high and respected offices as to stoop to such acts. It casts a shadow of suspicion upon the religious practices of the whole Jewish community in the eyes of our non-Jewish neighbors. Let this serve as a warning to those who have a guilty conscience in this respect.

Victoria, B.C., August 19, 1922:
The Editor,

CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW:

Re the article on the first page of your August 11 issue, "Grodno Jews Threatened with Pogrom."

Why do they always refer to the religion of the Jew and to the other person's nationality? They say one is a Jew and the other a Pole. Can't a Jew be a Pole or a German, American or Canadian? This continual singling out of our people as to their religion as against the nationality of the others, makes me tired, and no doubt fosters and keeps alive the prejudice against us.

I should think that the publishers of the Jewish papers and magazines would be the first to try to overcome this pernicious reference.

Yours truly,

M. Menkus.

EVERY FRIDAY

"JEWISH POPULACE GROWS," WAILES THE TOR-ONTO "TELEGRAM" IN AN ARTICLE ON THE OPENING OF THE NEW POLISH JEWISH SYNAGOG.
"ANOTHER NEW SYNAGOG," GROANS THE PAPER.
THESE ARE HEADLINES, BUT THE REST OF THE ARTICLE CONFIRMS ONE'S FIRST SUSPICION THAT THERE IS NOT ONLY WAILING AND GROANING GOING ON, BUT CONSIDERABLE GNASHING OF TEETH FROM THIS DAILY NEWSPAPER WHICH HAS HINDSIGHT
ENOUGH TO TELL ITS READERS THAT CANADA IS A GENTILE COUNTRY. WHEN WE SAY HINDSIGHT, WE MEAN THAT THE "TELEGRAM" IS SUFFERING FROM CHRONIC MYOPIA IF IT CANNOT SEE THAT ITS BIT-TERNESS WILL NOT DELAY THE DAY WHEN THE JEWS WILL BE AN ECONOMIC FACTOR IN TORONTO, AND ONE WHICH THE NEWSPAPERS WILL BE PAR-TICULARLY INTERESTED IN, FROM THE VICINITY OF THE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENTS, AT LEAST. THE ARTICLE CHRONICLES THE ERECTION OF TEN SYNA-GOGS SINCE 1900, AND CONTRASTS THIS WITH THE SLOW GROWTH OF THE PROTESTANT CHURCHES.
"ARE THE GENTILES TAKING SECOND PLACE IN THE CITY'S GROWTH?" DEMANDS THE STARTLED NEWS-PAPER. "THE RATE OF INCREASE, COMPARED WITH THAT OF THE HEBREWS," IT GOES ON TRAGICALLY,
"DOES NOT PUT THE GENTILES IN A WINNING PLACE." THEN COMES THE FINAL BURST OF ANGER THAT BETRAYS: "THE JEWS ARE NOT CREEPING
IN. THEY ARE COMING BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS,
ESTABLISHING CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS ALL OVER THE CITY." USELESS TO RAGE AGAINST THE "CHUTZPAH" OF THE "TELEGRAM," AGAINST ITS IGNORANCE AS TO THE CONTRIBUTIONS JEWS CAN MAKE TO A COUNTRY. WE ARE NO SEVENTH CHILD OF A SEVENTH CHILD, BUT WE LIKE TO PREDICT THE TIME WHEN AN ARTICLE OF SUCH VITRIOL WILL CREATE THE AMAZEMENT HERE THAT IT WOULD
ANYWHERE IN THE STATES. THERE IT WOULD BE UNHEARD OF FOR THREE REASONS. ONE IS THE SENTIMENT EXPRESSED; ANOTHER IS THAT IT IS SO POORLY WRITTEN THAT IT CAN'T RESIST EDITOR-IALIZING IN A STRAIGHT NEWS STORY, GIVEN A SUBJECT THAT MAY CAUSE APOPLEXY READILY.
THE THIRD REASON WHY SUCH A NASTY BIT WOULD NOT FIND ITS WAY INTO A DAILY PAPER ACROSS THE LINE, IS THAT JEWS HAVE BECOME AS FIRM A STRUTUM IN THE NATIONAL STRUCTURE AS ANY OTHER GROUP, AND ARE ABLE TO DEMAND ON MERIT
THE RECOGNITION THEY GET.

Rivka of the bobbed hair was not so foolish when she said recently that the man who had his "shiduch" made for him has a son who commits suicide over an unkept date. Of course, what she meant was that in the happy land of their adoption the Yehudim are learning lots of fancy things they never knew before. Pick up the papers and see if we are not competing fairly well with others in the matter of homicide, child abandonment, desertion, divorce and suicide. Time was when the purity of Jewish home life was something that even our disparagers admitted freely. Surely there is something wrong, something worse than unwholesome. Is it irreligion that breeds these crimes or what? That a remedy should be sought seems imperative. That we can seek one without first facing the truth is impossible.

"The Russian Jews have many commendable qualities," smiles the Cleveland "Review and Observer," introducing a half column of editorial on just how amazing Russian Jews are. In a sudden smear of compliments they are told how praiseworthy they are for their eagerness to assimilate, for their use of night schools, the rapidity with which they learn English, and how they achieve success against terrific odds. All the old line of stuff, which, while it is true of Russian Jews as a group, also applies to other Jewish immigrants.
Such blossoms as "their heroic fortitude, their willingness to bear hardships" look like old stuff, gratuitous and perhaps, superinduced.
For, in Cleveland the Russian Jew is not "persona grata" in that Jewish society over which the Germans and Hungarians have the stranglehold, and it might be that some under-dog raised a howl that carried to the editorial desk.

HAMILTON

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis, Young Street, gave a dinner last Saturday in celebration of their son, David's, Bar Mitzvah. Only members of the family were invited, among them being the grandparents of the Bar Mitzvah, Mr. and Mrs. J. Druker, of London, Ont. In honor of the occasion, a reception was held on Sunday afternoon attended by over forty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their son received. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers.

Mrs. Henry Davis and children, Helen, Helen and Bernard, are visiting in London, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ringel have returned home from Kingston, where they have been visiting Mr. Ringel's sister at her summer home.

Miss Anne Tushman was a visitor in Hamilton over the week-end.

Mrs. J. Zipper, New York, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grossberg, Charlton Avenue West.

Mr. and Mrs. Grossberg entertained at bridge in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Zipper, who is visiting here from New York. The card tables were set on the lawn. About twenty played. The prize-winners were Mrs. Rose Levy and Mrs. Skafwick.

Mrs. Rev. A. Wineberg, of Bulawayo, Rhodesia, South Africa, is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. Isaacs, 362 King East. Mrs. Wineberg came on the "Majestic" from England where she has been visiting relatives. She also visited friends in Germany, Austria and France with her husband, who has returned to South Africa in time for the approaching holidays. Mrs. Wineberg expects to stay in Hamilton for a couple of months.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton D. Whiteson, of Cleveland, O., and small daughter, Jean, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Isaacs.

Miss Nina Zola has left for a two weeks' vacation, to Detroit.

Miss Etta Levine has returned from Bronte, where she has been for the last two weeks.

Misses Kurtzman, Jean Fox, Sadie and Rose Halpern motored to Toronto on Sunday.

Mr. Bob Edelstein, of Ottawa, was visiting his cousin, Morley Goldblatt, last week.

Misses Bessie and Minnie Goldberg, Wellington Street North, have returned home from Selkirk, Ont.

Miss Selma Davis has returned from London, Ont.

Miss Ida Goldberg, a bride-elect of next month, was guest-of-honor last Monday evening at a miscellaneous shower, given by Miss Marjorie Pearson, at which were present about fifteen friends of Miss Goldberg.

Beth Jacob Social Circle

After the regular meeting, held on Sunday evening, a mock parliament was presented. Dave Robinson was prime minister, assisted by Ab. Walters, Sam Buchalter, Philip Perlegut, Sam Bercovitz, Ed Goodman, Joe Lewis, Jack Glass, Lollie Lazar, Misses Rose Halpern and Minnie Isaacs. A large number were in attendance.

The "moonlight", arranged by the B.J.S.C. for last Wednesday evening, proved a delightful affair. About fifty couples enjoyed the trip to Grimsby. The committee in charge of the affair were Misses F. Tick, Pearl Bercovitz and Sylvia Shapiro.

The B.J.S.C. contemplates holding a garden party some time in September.

The sudden death of Max Levy, son of Morris Levy, of Park North, came as a shock to the whole community. He complained of feeling ill on Saturday night at 12 o'clock. A few minutes after retiring, he was found dead in bed. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon to the Beth Jacob cemetery. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved father, sisters and brothers.

WINNIPEG

Mrs. W. Rackow and baby, Annette, have returned to Winnipeg Beach, after spending a few days in the city.

NEW NATURALIZATION RESTRICTIONS PRO- POSED

Washington (J. P. A.)—Representative Edmonds, member of Congress from Pennsylvania, is agitating for the new bill proposed by him, which would deny immigrants the right of naturalization and citizenship. Their children, the bill promises, should be naturalized only when they have lived in the country continuously for twenty years.

In a public statement to the press, Congressman Edmonds claimed for his bill the support of many prominent American men and women.

Opening of Synagog Bnai Israel

The grand opening of the Synagog Bnai Israel was held on Sunday, August 27, 1922, at 257 Shaw Street. The meeting was called to order by Mr. M. Johnson, who, after a few introductory remarks, called upon the president, Mr. M. Ellenberg, to act as master of ceremonies.

The opening was provided with a good orchestra, the door being opened with the golden key by Mr. K. Herman. Afterwards, Cantor Saitz sang "Pishoo le Shari Zedeck," which resulted in loud applause. Rabbi Siegel gave the opening address in which he pleaded for unity and goodwill. Appeals were made on behalf of the synagog by Miss S. Ellenberg and Eli Bohnen (both children of the Synagog Talmud Torah), which were loudly applauded.

The officers—President M. Ellenberg, Vice-President M. Layevsky, and Treasurer B. Vexler—were presented with 14k. gold watches as gifts of appreciation for their noble work. The address of presentation was read by Messrs. Johnson, Wilson, Bohnen, and Breslin.

Refreshments were served free. Quite a sum of money was realized.

The success of the opening was largely due not only to the committee, which consisted of Messrs. Gruner, Gordon, Johnson, Breslin, Bohnen, Kelman, Keller and Smith, but to the hearty co-operation of a committee of the Independent Daughters of Israel, which consisted of Mesdames Breslin, Ellenberg, Gruner, Vexler, Bohnen, Lagan, Cohen and Grandie, who worked hard to make things pleasant for the guests.

NEW OBSTACLES TO EMIGRATING MARRIED WOMEN

Warsaw (J. P. A.)—Married women, who are seeking to rejoin their husbands in America, now have new difficulties in obtaining a visa of their passports.

If their husbands are not citizens, they can not obtain a visa upon their passports, even though their brothers and sisters, who are citizens, send them the required affidavits.

The American consul declared that inasmuch as these women are not going to be with their brothers and sisters but with their husbands, the latter have no right to bring their wives to this country so long as they are not citizens themselves.

KIEV RETURNING TO "NORMALCY"

KEHILLAH FUNDS MISSING: EXECUTIVE HEAD DEPOSED

Lemberg (J. P. A.)—The executive head of Rowarisko Kehillah has been deposed, because he was suspected of complicity in the misappropriation of public funds to his private use. A searching investigation of this scandal is now under way.

REACTIONARIES IN LATVIA PREPARE NEW ATTACKS UPON RUSSIA

Riga (J. P. A.)—The local police has uncovered a well laid plot by a secret organization of Russian monarchists to launch forth new military attacks upon Soviet Russia at the opening of spring. Von Raben, formerly adjutant to the well known counter-revolutionary, Walow Bermant, headed this organization, and was scheduled to command the forces to be engaged in the military operation.

The suspicions of the police were first aroused by the marked influx of Russian ex-officers, who were kept under surveillance until the plot was disclosed and the ring-leaders of the conspiracy taken into custody.

THE Royal Automatic

The Royal Automatic and Marvel Non-Automatic are the only gas water heaters in the world which spread water into a thin, flowing sheet so that it can be heated with a small amount of gas. They do this by means of the B-M Water Spreader—the most ingenious element ever devised for heating water. This patented device is found exclusively in the Royal and Marvel and is not to be confused with open discs used in other heaters. Besides giving superior hot water service, Bastian-Morley heaters cost less to buy, to install and to operate. See one in actual operation at:

ROVNO AUTHORITIES PERSECUTE REFUGEES AND EMIGRANTS

Warsaw (J. P. A.)—The Polish bureaucrats of Rovno, intoxicated with power, are persecuting mercilessly all emigrants and refugees passing through Rovno, which is the central clearing-house for all Ukrainian and Russian emigrants.

Recently the municipal authorities decided to return to Russia even those emigrants who were given written assurance by the American consul that he will approve their passports for American immigration. An appeal taken to the ministry at Warsaw was effective, and the order of the municipal authorities was countermanded.

Warsaw (J. P. A.)—The Mexican general consul at this city issued, through the columns of the Jewish press, a warning against wholesale mass-emigration to Mexico. "The restrictions upon emigration to Mexico," the consul declared, "have not yet been removed or modified. No concessions have yet been made to encourage wholesale emigration."

The rantings of some irresponsible persons about a "Jewish territory" in Mexico, have caused many distressed refugees to hasten to the Mexican consulate to enroll themselves as colonists in the new "Jewish territory." It is to discourage such unwarranted assumptions and to prevent tragedies of disillusioned hope and blasted expectations that the consul issued his statement to the press.

THE first Super-Service parcel you receive from the Ontario Laundry will prove all our claims for the better work and finish of our exclusively high-grade laundering.

LABOR LEADER WOULD CLOSE DOORS FOR FIVE YEARS

New York (J. P. A.)—William F. Kehol, prominent labor leader, secretary of the Central Trades Union of Greater New York, in a recent public address, advocated the complete and total prohibition of all incoming immigration for a period of at least five years. As his chief argument for so radical a step, Mr. Kehol revived the bugaboo of bolshevism and communism, which, he charged, all incoming immigrants were infected with.

Major La Guardia, former president of the Board of Aldermen, prominent Italian leader and insurgent Republican, replied vigorously to the remarks of Mr. Kehol, libelling the European immigrant.

ZIONISTS AND UKRAINIANS FORM ELECTION COMBINE IN GALICIA

Lemberg (J. P. A.)—Polish newspapers carry reports of an election agreement entered into, by and between the Zionists and Ukrainians in Galicia, by the terms of which they are to offer each other mutual aid and support at the coming Sejm elections.

Official spokesmen for Zionist and Ukrainian circles decline to affirm or deny the reports circulated by the Polish press. It seems that a formal agreement has not yet been reached nor signed, but negotiations are still proceeding and some sort of a working agreement is expected.

Boston (J. P. A.)—At a banquet given here in honor of Judge Julian W. Mack, there was raised a fund of $20,000 for the Ruthenberg plan. David A. Lurie, prominent Zionist, recently appointed a judge in the city of Boston, presided at the banquet.

LOEW'S YONGE ST. THEATRE

Probably the biggest punch in "For the Defense," big photoplay feature, starring Ethel Clayton, which will be shown at Loew's Yonge St. Theatre next week, with regular vaudeville, comes in the trial scene, according to Paul Powell, who directed the production.

Jennie, the protegee of the heroine, played respectively by Miss ZaSu Pitts and Miss Clayton, is on trial for the murder of the hypnotist, Dr. Kasimir, played by Bertram Grassby. Seeing that the evidence is all going against the girl, the star springs to her feet and, regardless of court procedure, cries:

"She is innocent, I killed him!"

In fact, she is not sure but that she did, because she was under a hypnotic spell at the time of the tragedy.

Knowing herself innocent, a fact she has maintained steadfastly throughout the trial, Jennie, determined not to permit her best friend to bear the burden of guilt, reverses her testimony and screams that she alone is guilty. As a matter of fact, neither is guilty.

The Greatest Story of Jewish Home Life Ever Depicted on the Screen

Anti-Jewish Prejudice

By A. Rosenthal

Concluded from issue of August 18th

But all this is lessening. In America the Jew mingles freely and co-operates commercially, socially, educationally, charitably and patriotically with his fellow-countrymen of other faiths in every city in the Union. He is valued and appreciated.

Jewish people are more and better understood and respected in spite of some very undesirable specimens, such as the loud-mouthed, vulgar, noisy Jew, the ostentatious, braggart Jew, the dress-and-diamond-displaying Jew (and Jewess), the coarse, uncouth, uncleanly and odorous Jew, the "care-for-nothing-but-card-playing" Jew, the tricky, swindling, cheating Jew, the political, corrupt, "job-hunting" Jew, the miserly, unsympathetic Jew, and the dissipated, pleasure-pursuing, sensual, glutton Jew.

Happily, the truer, better Jews vastly outnumber and exceed the objectionable types. The true Jews who are helping to diminish anti-Jewish prejudice here in America, are those brave fighting Jews who stood, like Krotchinsky, fearlessly in the fierce fire of the battle of Argonne in the cause of world justice and democracy—civic Jews like Elkus, Baruch, Straus and Morgenthau, and all liberty-loving, law-abiding Jews, conspicuous or humble, efficient worker Jews in trades and professions, kindly, broad-minded Jews, who help the needy of all creeds, courteous, cultured Jews who care for education and good manners, worthy Jews of character and honor, upright Jews whose standard of integrity in business square with honesty rather than with profit.

If we study the past, we find that along with progress of mankind there have been, in every land, bold, manly men, who, at the risk of death, have championed justice to the Jew, and stood up for his right to life, liberty and happiness.

In this glorious galaxy a few distinguished names shine with the Jewish stars. Their fight was synonymous with the battle for the rights of man, for Jewish rights and human rights are one and the same.

Jewish organizations and Jews can do no nobler work than fighting for these Jewish rights in the very midst of the nation in which it has its being, whether it be Russia, Poland or America. In America is its chief great field, and opportunity to win the priceless treasury of Jewish recognition and respect, by the evidence of an undivided loyalty, a fervent patriotism and a full participation in the higher thought and progress of the land.

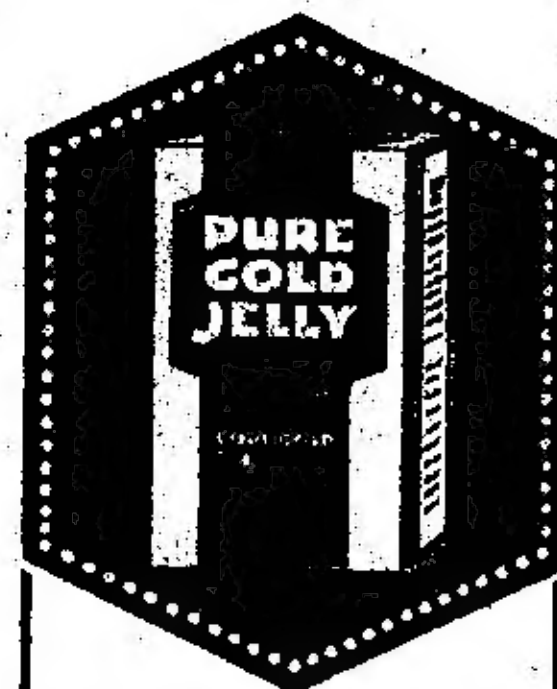

There is one form of ugly, serious anti-Jewish prejudice that should be mentioned with deep shame. It is the prejudice of Jew against Jew, or Zionist versus German Jew, of Orthodox versus Reform Jew, of poor Jew versus rich Jew—in fact, of any one Jew who differs from another Jew. This bitterness prevents our progress.

In the account of the plagues visited on Pharaoh in Egypt, there was one, the plague of darkness, that was "so thick it could be felt." It put out the light of the sun.

In our day we see coming the brighter, better period, when the reverse will be true, when the sun of civilization and of progress will put out the thick darkness of bigotry, religious intolerance and anti-Jewish prejudice, whether founded on religious bias, economic business jealousy, social exclusiveness or political discrimination.

In that larger, world-embracing light of education, fellowship and brotherhood, such a subject as "Anti-Jewish Prejudice" will be fit only for the consideration of the investigator of fossils and antiquities.

Every Jew or Jewess, who by a personal conduct and example promotes the progress of the Jewish people, is serving ALL humanity. He or she earns the everlasting gratitude of Judaism and of ALL mankind, for through such service the bright day is nearer brought, when the misunderstandings between man and man—of which anti-Jewish prejudice is one—will disappear, at least as far as complicated human life and human nature will permit.

has ever given any pay to clerks in private concerns, nor has it ever received any information from private concerns. I challenge your correspondent to give the name of such private company or concern. Your correspondent further states that in a public office a false report was inserted in confidential files, and that within 24 hours a wire was received at Government House from the Zionist Executive in London inquiring about this report. I again assert that this statement is absolutely without any foundation whatsoever. Neither the Zionist executive in London nor in Palestine has ever received confidential statements through any other than the official sources. My contradiction of these two statements must not be allowed to imply that the rest of your correspondent's article is correct. Yours, etc., M. D. Eder, P.Z.E. The article criticized by Mr. Eder requires no further comment excepting to say that it is a pity that it does not stand alone when "wrong information" might be the reason ascribed to its obvious anti-Semitic tone. However, certain sections of the press continue to teem with similar letters embracing petty spite which on probing are found to be mere bubbles.

The musical season has now ended and has shown a brilliant display of student talent, particularly noticeable at the final concert of a series of seven given by Mr. Isador Epstein's pupils, which was extremely well received. Two pianoforte works by Mr. I. Epstein of a comparatively simple nature are just now published, entitled a "Sarabande Gavotte and Musette."

Major Wildeblood's exhibition of paintings of India is interesting both for the subject and the fresh treatment. Sir Valentine Chirol's remark, "Those who have never seen India will see it in Major Wildeblood's exhibition through the eyes of a skilled and sympathetic observer, who knows how to interpret not only the scenery but the spirit of the mysterious country whose destinies have come to be so strangely interwoven with our own," accurately sums up one's feelings about this show, and all one could say regarding these sketches would be a repetition. Major Wildeblood seems specially impressed by the different aspects of the Taj Mahal. Continually he returns to it to obtain a fresh expression and the result is satisfying in every attempt. "Ships in the Desert" is another picture where he catches the real spirit and poetry of the East.

While on the subject of art, it is interesting to note that we again have in this country one of the well known Maris family of artists—a nephew of the well known Mathias Maris. This talented young artist and sculptor, Jacques Maris, has not long been in the country, but his work speaks of a brilliant future. His style is typically Dutch and his powerful strokes have already been admired by the critics.

From law to politics is, of course, an easy step, and here also you can use the bon mot given above, but more emphatically. If you wish, however, you can name Leon Trotzky.

As scientists, Sir William Herschel made the survey of the heavens, catalogued the nebulae and clusters and discovered Uranus, a prodigious feat. W. Beer, who was a brother to the famous composer, Meyerbeer, drew the first map of the moon; Morris Loewy invented the elbow telescope, whereby astronomers ever after were saved the dreaded disease, crick-in-the-neck. A. A. Michelson is one of our great ones to-day, as is also Einstein, the man whose theory of relativity is famous by reason of the fact that only nine men in the world understand it.

When we come to the fine arts we excel in everything save in interpretative art. We are creators par excellence, but not so good as performers.

The crown of music has for its jewels the sweet singer, Mendelssohn, the master of musical theatricalism; Meyerbeer; Halevy, who gained immortal fame by setting to music the story, "The Jewess"; Goldmark, a fine musician who did three things to make his memory everlasting—the opera "Queen of Sheba," the concerto for violin and the Sakuntala overture; Rubinstein, needing no introduction; Moscheles, a piano virtuoso, but better known as a pedagogue; Cowen, English choral conductor; Mahler, a giant among conductors; Benedict and Costa, leading English conductors; Joachim, the prince of violinists; the Damrosches; Hofmann, the pianist. The very latest list is so long as to make compiling it a bewildering task.

The standard Jews of the theater are Sarah Bernhardt, Rachel, David Belasco, Reinhardt, Israel Zangwill and Schnitzler. But if you want the modernists, the task is hopeless. The stages of all countries—yea, and the movies, too—are irrevocably bonded with Israel.

In literature, of the kind that projects social systems, we are prolific, and we write with pride the names of Karl Marx and Ferdinand Lasalle, but of literature proper there is nothing important to say, sad to confess. The list teems with journalism, but not many of these journalists have risen above journalism, despite their fascinating brilliancy. We can just think of Israel Zangwill and Lord Beaconsfield (Benjamin Disraeli) and the poet, Heine. This is, of course, excluding the moderns, whose fame may live after we are no longer here to criticize them, or it may not.

Our philosophers are monumental in historical times, when Maimonides wrote his great, "Guide to the Perplexed." Then we have Spinoza and Moses Mendelssohn as the greater representatives. In general the Jew who is not a philosopher is abnormal. More practical philosophers are Nordau and Lombroso, the latter a great criminologist.

When, remembering the classifications we had laid down for ourselves in this compilation, we arrive at finance, we are in a quandary. To say that we are the financial rock of Gibraltar, underneath which the money of the world must flow, is flattering but hardly true. As in literature, we teem with the grade that parallels journalism, but of the masters we have but few names. Try as we might our memory only yields one name in finance that may be called historically important—the Rothschilds.

This completes our list. And, as we have observed before, it is a very poverty-stricken one. But what is left out here you can fill in by imaginative thinking—and the result, we believe, won't be far wrong.

POLISH FAMILY KIDNAPS JEWISH GIRL—REFUSES TO RETURN HER TO HER MOTHER

Warsaw (J.P.A.)—Frieda Zuker, a 13-year-old girl from Lodz who came to Szirardow to attend a wedding of her cousin, suddenly disappeared and was not found for a week, when she was located in the home of a Christian family. When the mother of the girl went to claim her, she was denied access to her child. Upon application to the police, she was directed to produce documents identifying her as the mother of the child, but when such documents were produced, the police still declined to help her. The mother then turned to the country prosecutor for help, but it was all in vain. She then turned for help to the Ministers of Justice and Interior, but her pleas were unheeded. The Jewish deputies of the Seim are now intervening in her behalf.

POLAND IN DANGER—ICE CREAM IN JEWISH HANDS

Warsaw (J.P.A.)—"Dwa Grosza," Antisemitic paper of this city, has finally discovered the real cause of Poland's ills. The great menace to Polish sovereignty and the reason for Poland's poverty is the ice cream industry. This cooling and refreshing delicacy is made by Jews. Few Poles are interested in this industry. "Therefore," declared this ardent champion of Polish integrity, in a flaming editorial, "let us all unite in the sacred task of rescuing this all-important industry from impious and unholy hands. Ice cream must be nationalized."

GAMBLING LOSSES' HEAVY COMMITS SUICIDE

Dantzic (J.P.A.)—Edward Augenblick, of Cracow, committed suicide at Courart, Zapost, having lost heavily at cards during the last few months.
